105TH REUNION
WEEKEND AND LMR

Spring has arrived at Camp Lincoln and Camp Lake Hubert, which means that summer is just around the corner! We are excited to have you join us for our 105th Season. This Railsplitter will help you start to prepare for the summer-of-a-lifetime. Descriptions of our weekly special days are listed, as are the Rally Day Dance Themes for our older three and four week campers. In addition to the usual fantastic activities and special days we have offered in the past, we have added a few twists as well as some new ones for you to enjoy, too. You will find descriptions of a sampling of these new and improved activities and events within this newsletter.

Another sure sign that camp is just around the corner is that our new gear and supplies for Summer 2014 are starting to show up. Marty and the CL/CLH Maintenance Staff have been busy putting away the new stand-up paddleboards, mountain bikes, archery equipment, and much, much more. Did you know that we order over 550 CASES of cereal each summer? Many trucks will be showing up every week between now and the start of camp bringing all that is needed to make this an amazing summer.

Finally, there is a list of all of the campers signed up for camp in the middle section of this edition of the Spring Railsplitter. Please check it out to see if your friends from last year are returning or to see if any of your friends or your neighbors from home are joining you at Lincoln or Hubert this summer for the first time. If they are not, please be sure to encourage them to join you on what we hope is your best summer yet. You can “booster” your friends, and if they come to camp, you could win a blanket, a jacket or even a bicycle! I hope that you enjoy this 2014 Spring Railsplitter, and we look forward to seeing you at Camp Lincoln and Camp Lake Hubert this summer!

RALLY DAY DANCE THEMES

PEACE, LOVE AND DANCE: 1ST SESSION - FRIDAY, JUNE 27TH

It is time to get keyed up for a killer party as we transform Lincoln into one of the 1960's most memorable events....WOODSTOCK! Be sure to arrive dressed in your best hippie threads complete with smiley faces, fake tattoos, braids, tie-dyes and cool sunglasses. If hippies are not your thing, then dress as your favorite 60's historical figure like Marilyn Monroe, JFK, Diana Ross of the Supremes, Martin Luther King, Jr., Twiggy, Neil Armstrong, Cher or as one of the Beatles to name a few. At the end of the night, you will have finger popped, danced holes in your soles and then bugged out. Can you dig it?

CALLING ALL CAPED CRUSADERS: 2ND SESSION - SATURDAY, JULY 26TH

We apologize for interrupting your reading with an important news bulletin: Once again, Camp Lincoln and Camp Lake Hubert are under attack! During 1st Session last year, the evil archenemy, Anti-Dance Man, tried to destroy the Rally Day Dance as we know it. Lucky for us, he was unsuccessful! However, word on the street is that he plans to try again during 2nd Session this year. Thus we have been left with only thing to do... unite our powers, AGAIN, and dance the night away! We hope that you will come dressed as your favorite caped crusader, superhero, fairy tale character, or even a being of your own creation. Like the proverbial phoenix, the 2nd Session Rally Day Dance will rise from the ashes to even greater heights and will allow us to spoil Anti-Dance Man's Plans once and for all.

CAMP LINCOLN UPDATES

At Camp Lincoln, we have been working very hard throughout this long, bitter cold, off-season to ensure that the Summer of 2014 will be better than ever! In order to make this summer so amazing, we have updated some areas on camp, expanded some activity programs, and made sure that all of our equipment is great to use!

First, we have offered waterskiing as an activity over the past few years in various ways, we are finally able to bring waterskiing right to camp on Lake Hubert! In the off-season, we got a ski boat and have brought on some amazing staff members who are certified to teach waterskiing to all levels of skiers. That's not all that we have added and improved on the waterfront, though! Our docks have been upgraded, and we now have more paddleboards so that more campers can enjoy such a great way to be on the lake!

Some other exciting updates to Camp Lincoln include a new campsite for overnight cabin campouts, a new Gaga Court in Pancake Park and another in Junior Camp, a new trips menu with tastier food than before, and new athletic equipment for sports and field games. Too, we spent a lot of time completely revamping the Junior Campfire Area. Finally, Color Wars Part 1 has been updated with even more exciting games, challenges, and activities.

Please be sure to be on the lookout for all these new updates and improvements during the summer and we hope these changes will help to make this summer the best one yet!

"I WANT YOU TO KNOW... THIS GIRL IS SUCH A DIFFERENT PERSON COMPARED TO THE ONE I PUT ON THE PLANE A MONTH AGO. SHE IS FILLED WITH HOPE, CONFIDENCE, AND APPRECIATION. I AM SO THANKFUL TO YOU AND YOUR STAFF." – Camp Lake Hubert Parent

CAMP LAKE HUBERT UPDATES

No matter where you are from, summer has to be just around the corner, right? With each passing month, we keep trying to make summer come faster and faster so that we can hurry up and get to camp! Part of getting ready for camp is looking forward to the familiar aspects of camp and our growing curiosity about the changes and differences the 2014 Summer will bring. This year at Camp Lake Hubert, we will be expanding two popular activities from last summer. The first involving our feathered friends, the baby chicks, and second, the expansion of our waterskiing program.

As many of you may remember from last summer, we hatched a baby chicken who we named Solo. Solo was an American Silkie Bantam Chicken. Silkies are known for their gentle personalities and "dog like" characteristics of following people around. Solo was a great example of these behaviors as one could watch Solo follow Ecology Campers around camp as they all took her for a daily walk. This summer, we will have many more baby chicks to take care of and play with throughout the summer.

The expansion of our waterskiing program will allow for waterskiing to be offered right on Lake Hubert. We will have a ski boat and qualified staff members ready to teach eager campers willing to give waterskiing a try! While we have done skiing in a variety of ways over the past years, we are excited to see this activity on Lake Hubert this summer.

There are a few more noteworthy updates, improvements and changes to mention. Bill Jones and Stacey Dyer are working on overhauling some of the elements on the Low Ropes Course. Additionally, several new events will be added to the course and parts of the layout will be reconfigured as well.

On top of adding waterskiing to Lake Hubert, we have also made other changes to the waterfront. We will be adding some sections to the docks for support and structural needs for the waterskiing program. Windsurfing will move to be over by the waterfront to allow the motorized boats to maneuver freely in and out of the Sailing Dock.

Hubert's Pasture has been opened up into more of a true pasture, and we will seed it with a variety of natural grasses this spring and fall. The horses will surely enjoy their new area and all it will have to offer them as the grass grows. Golden Eye has already given his "hoof" of approval!

CAMPERS! HOW TO PREPARE YOURSELVES FOR THE SUMMER

Hey campers! It is almost time to make the journey to camp! Here are three easy things you can try to help you prepare for the best summer of your life!

1) Try to set your alarm in the morning and, as difficult as it may be, get out of your bed to start getting ready for the day right when your alarm goes off. You will be surprised how much being used to this early morning routine can help you get the most out of every day at camp.

2) Go shopping with your parents for some camp essentials! Even if you just get some bug spray, sunscreen, and a stylish new bathing suit, it will all help you get even more excited for the summer and for your time at camp!

3) Finally, to make sure your family knows how much fun you have during the summer, take some stationary and stamps pre-addressed with your family's address. Don't forget the grandparents, aunts, uncles, and cousins!

7 REASONS WHY YOUR MIDDLE SCHOOLER NEEDS CAMP by Anne Archer Yetsko

When I Googled the phrase “middle school,” two of the top hits were “Middle school survival” and “Middle school: the worst years of my life.” I found that to be a pretty good depiction of how most people feel about this slightly (or not so slightly) traumatizing and awkward period of life. There are a few key aspects of the camp experience that are really beneficial for this age group.

CAMP GIVES YOUR MIDDLE SCHOOLER:

1. AN IDENTITY: KIDS NEED AN IDENTITY. Middle schoolers are defined by their looks, material stuff (cool shoes, backpack, gaming devices), parents, grades, and their athleticism. Camp allows kids to be known for being a great archer, team player, cannonball jumper, friend, kayaker, s'more maker, table setter, frog catcher, and much more. This list is endless. When a kid walks onto a camp property they get to choose their identity. WOW! Where else in life does that happen? A few years ago we had a girl come to camp who decided she wanted to go by “Phyllis” at camp. She had always liked the name and she wanted people to call her Phyllis. Camp even allows you to change your name if you want to!

2. AN EMOTIONALLY SAFE ENVIRONMENT: Our middle schoolers need a supportive environment where they can mess up and it's ok. They need somewhere they can miss the bulls-eye and no one laughs. Instead, their friends give them pointers on how to do better next time. Camp provides this.

3. A CHANCE TO BE A KID: We live in a world that forces children to grow up entirely too fast. Our kids need a chance to be kids. They need to make s'mores, ride horses, shoot a bow and arrow, dress silly, eat candy, paint pictures, play games, and go on adventures.

4. AN OPPORTUNITY TO BE OUTSIDE: Our kids live in a world where they never have to go outside, and that world scares me. Our kids need to get dirty, make forts, swim in lakes, and catch fireflies. There are hundreds of articles and books out there about “the nature deficit” in children. To grow emotionally, physically, and mentally, kids need time outside. As our addiction to phones, computers, tablets, and video games grows, it has never been more important for kids to have substantial time away from these things.

5. TRUE FRIENDS: There is something about people living together, working together, playing together, and overcoming challenges together that creates friendships that are intense and long lasting. They are also different from school friendships that can often end on a whim and are just as often filled with drama. Knowing they have a safety net of “camp friends” makes the emotional rollercoaster of middle school more bearable.

“AS I REFLECT ON MY PAST SUMMER AS AN LT1, I THINK ABOUT IT AS THE YEAR IN WHICH I LEARNED THE MOST I’VE EVER LEARNED WHILE ATTENDING LINCOLN WHILE, AT THE SAME TIME, HAVING LOADS OF FUN AND PRACTICING IMPORTANT SKILLS.” – Camp Lincoln Camper

6. MENTORS: Kids need people other than their parents to invest in them. They need positive role models to look up to. Camp provides children with amazing, college-age students who truly care about them and want them to be the best version of themselves. Kids need people to teach them how to make friends, how to handle conflict, and how to be a good sport. They also need to know that there are other people out there who struggled through middle school who are now thriving. When their counselor tells them that seventh grade was also a really hard year for them, it gives them hope that life will not always be as difficult as it is in seventh grade.

7. A BIGGER PICTURE: Our preteens need to know that the world is bigger than their middle school, hometown, or even state. They need to know that when it feels like their world is crumbling around them in the halls of their school that their life is not limited to that place. They have friends in Florida and Louisiana, and counselors in Georgia and New York, and a camp in the mountains of western North Carolina.

I believe that kids today need camp more than ever, especially middle school kids. These preteens and newly-teens need to learn who they are and what they are great at in an emotionally safe and supportive environment that pushes them to play outside and grows their sense of adventure.

Anne Archer Yetsko is the associate director of Camp Merri-Mac in Black Mountain, North Carolina. She has worked for Merri-Mac for twelve years and is also a recent graduate Touro University’s Camp Administration and Leadership Master’s Program.

PARENTS! HOW TO PREPARE YOURSELVES FOR THE SUMMER

Whether it is the first time your children will be attending Camp Lincoln and Camp Lake Hubert, or whether you are a seasoned veteran, here are 3 useful tips that can help ease your concerns and prepare you for the summer:

1) Talk to your campers about their concerns and questions regarding camp. Not only will this help your children feel more excited and comfortable with being away from home, but chances are, as you talk things through, you will be able to answer a lot of your own questions.

2) Learn to embrace the time away from your children while they are at camp. Relax, read a new book, or try a new hobby that you have been “meaning to get around to” for a while. Like your campers, the more fun you have and the busier you are, the less you will have time to be “campersick.”

3) Remember that, as parents, we run into situations where we tell our kids that it is ok to be nervous and safely out of their comfort zones when learning new skills and meeting new people. Remind yourself of this fact and try to practice what you preach!
