Welcome Alumni!

Welcome to the latest Alumni Railsplitter! As always, there is much to share with you all. First, a thank you to all that have shared their own personal news for the Alumni Updates Section. This is always a much-anticipated section of the Railsplitter. Thank you as well to those of you that stopped by this summer. We always enjoy the opportunity to walk down memory lane with you. And finally, a big thank you to those of you that sent your children, grandchildren, or other relatives back to the shores of Lake Hubert. Your continued support is inspiring, humbling, and reminds us of the tradition and history that came before us.

Due in no small way to your support, camp continues to thrive. Campers continue to come from all over the USA, and all over the world. The camp program has more value than ever for today's youth. Living and playing with others, outdoors/in nature, combined with independence and self-determination is not as typical as it once was in the world. Staff, too, find the camp experience rewarding. Being a counselor can be transformative, and can lead one down previously unthought-of pathways. Do you know a college student that would make a good counselor? Please send them our way!

There are many things happening at camp that are getting us especially excited for the coming summer. We have two major construction projects set to be completed by this coming spring. Both of these projects – a recreation center at Camp Lincoln, and a kitchen remodel and dining hall addition at Camp Lake Hubert – will be significant upgrades for the campers and staff. There is also the big 110th Anniversary Weekend Celebration planned for the end of the summer. Much like the 100th and 105th, we are planning for a large group of alumni to return for a weekend of reminiscing, reconnecting with fellow campers and staff, and a whole lot of camp-time fun. We hope to see you there!

Please enjoy this Alumni Railsplitter!

Our grandchildren talk about Family Camp all year and sing songs - it is hugely gratifying to us that they look forward to this week as much as we do. Where else can you teach your grandchildren to walk home (Halyard Haven) in the dark without a flashlight and then sneak down on the sailing dock and lie down to experience that amazing star filled night sky together? That kind of experience at Family Camp stays in my heart all year long.

TAYLOR MASON
DIVISION DIRECTOR
S2017-2019

I was in my third year of university when I decided to take the leap and travel to America to work at a summer camp. Since the age of 12, every time summer came around, I always had a trip planned. That is in part thanks to my time in the Army Cadets. I remember sitting in my house discussing with my friend how the upcoming summer would be the first, in a long time, I had no real plans to do anything productive. That is when the idea of summer camp became the main topic of conversation. Before I knew it, I found myself signing up to a summer camp agency. I did not know of the life changing decision I had just made. A few weeks later, I attended a job fair where international applicants have the opportunity to personally meet various camp staff from all around America. I remember walking into a big hall and seeing the biggest line in the room for Camp Lincoln and Camp Lake Hubert. So, after a long wait I had an interview with Chris McNeely, the Instructional Coordinator for Staffing. After which, I was honoured to be offered a position at Camp Lincoln that summer. The next few weeks flew by, and before I knew it I was boarding a plane to the states.

When I arrived at the airport I remembered being pretty nervous about what to expect. I had been away for long periods of time, but nothing to this extent. However, soon after having a warm welcome by a group of camp staff, I was sure that I was going to have one of the best summers of my life. That first summer was truly amazing. No words or stories can prepare you for the experience that I had.

One of the unique things about camp, and one of the many reasons why I think staff return, is you can truly be yourself and no one is going to judge you. That allowed me to fully come out of my shell and embrace everything camp had to offer. I feel that when we are at camp, we are all in a little bubble that is disconnected to the outside world. Now some people would describe this feeling as being disconnected to the "real world". However, I totally disagree. I think that the environment camp allows us to be a part of is the "real world", an environment that gives us the opportunity to make true friendships with people from all across the globe.

I remember telling myself before my first time that I would only do the one summer and then get a full-time job. Now after only a few months of getting back from camp, I have already put my fully completed job applications to one side and gladly signed up for my third summer.

I do not think it is even possible to forget the memories and the friendships I made over the last two summers. I now have friends all over the world that would welcome me with just one phone call. My confidence in saying that shows how strong the bonds you make at camp really are. The task of writing a reflection and portraying the effect of camp is one that I will never be able to do justice. Trying to put into words what camp is like, is just not possible. I am already counting down the months until I have the opportunity for another unbelievable summer at Camp Lincoln.

"You should work at camp! It will be a lot of fun!" That was all it took to get me looking into a position at Camp Lake Hubert. I had worked at local summer camps so I thought I knew what I was getting into. When I got off the plane and loaded onto a bus with fifteen other staff members, I realized this experience was going to be like nothing I had ever done in my life.

Within the first week of being there, I had become close with people from four different countries and that list continued to grow as the summer progressed. Our relationships soon transitioned from co-workers to a tight knit family that laughed, cried, and succeeded together as a team.

Throughout my time at Camp Lake Hubert, I grew in ways that I never expected. I was pushed to be a leader in times of stress where I would have stood in the background and be patient. I not only grew because of the directors and other staff around me, but the kids changed me too.

I was the Trapshooting Activity Specialist for Camp Lake Hubert. Some of the girls that signed up for trapshooting were new to the activity and looked to me for guidance on how to safely excel at this skill. One particular girl was so nervous to take her turn shooting that it took her two days before she would even think about it. After lots of encouragement, she finally took her shot. She immediately looked at me with a smile across her face and a glimmer in her eyes that I will never forget. After that, she wanted to be there every block and amazed me daily. Her bravery to push through that fear was an example to me and everyone around her.

The memories I made at camp will stay with me for years to come. Whether it was singing songs on the way to activities, sharing friendship bracelets, or staring at the stars before bed, camp changed my life in a big way. I no longer look at Camp Lake Hubert as a summer job, but instead as a part of my life. I am blessed to have been given the opportunity to have these experiences and I hope I can continue to be a Camp Lake Hubert Girl for many more years.

Age 18

The 2018 Summer at Camp Lincoln has unfortunately come to an end. However, the countless memories made this year have everyone anticipating the beginning of next summer. For me, being an LT2 (Leadership Training) this summer posed a challenge so significant that it changed me forever.

When I first came to camp in 2009, I immediately fell in love with everything. I enjoyed activities such as ultimate frisbee and loon jumping and made friendships that I still maintain ten years later. Too, perhaps more importantly, I looked up to a group of fine young men called the Leadership Trainees. Throughout my eight years as a camper, LTs have painted a picture of not only how great camp is, but also how someone should act outside of camp. During my 9th and 10th summers as an LT, I found it my duty to paint that same picture.

This past summer, Jack Kirkpatrick, Nate Ryan, and I had the privilege of coming back to the shores of Lake Hubert as LT2s. Although we were not planning special days like LT1s, we made up that workload with more paperwork and quality relationships with campers and staff alike.

The paperwork, while more dense, was extremely intriguing. Reading more about counseling and camp industry topics not only made me better appreciate the Camp Lincoln Community, it also helped me to better establish inclusion and student participation in school events.

As an LT2, I got to experience first-hand the business side of Camp Lincoln. After many sessions with the Business and Main Office, Warehouse, Facilities and Grounds Crew, Nurses, Program and Division Directors, and other camp executives, I realized how much effort goes into making Camp Lincoln a great place and how well everyone does his or her job.

I also had the opportunity to work with one of the most exceptional counselor groups I have met. This summer, I received great advice from them on how I should act not only around the cabin, but also around camp and how to effectively entertain and work with kids of all ages.

Above all, I got to hangout and mentor some of the greatest campers. I recall a time when I felt like I was having a difficult time. A camper was there to build me up and boost my confidence. Throughout these past ten years, I have always said that the best people I know, I met at Camp Lincoln. Every camper has impacted me in some sort of way that has made my time so much more priceless.

Overall, I would never trade my memories at Camp Lincoln for anything. My life in the classroom, at home, and in my extracurriculars has changed forever and I have Camp Lincoln and the LT Program to thank for that.

EMILY DICKEY

Age 17

What is Camp Lake Hubert? I get this question frequently, yet I always struggle to encapsulate my extraordinary summers in a sound bite. From the outside, camp can seem so foreign, with its own songs, traditions, and quirks. But for anyone who has had the opportunity to live on the shores of Hubert, it can feel more like a home than any other place in the world.

I first came to Camp Lake Hubert as an eager Oriole in 2011. I had heard so many stories from my older brother, aunt, and friends, that I already felt familiar with camp before I had even arrived. However, I was not prepared for how quickly I would feel a part of the incredible camp community. From playing Quidditch during my first special day to learning how to shoot a rifle, my cabinmates, counselors, and LTs (Leadership Training Campers) made every activity exciting, fun, and memorable. By the end of the short two weeks, I counted down the days until my return the following summer.

As I continued my camp journey, I always had one goal - become an LT. The LT Program is a long-standing tradition for Camp Lake Hubert, and the LTs embody the best of camp. I can still tell you every LT that lived in my cabins and how they influenced me and my camp experience. When I received the application after my Clubhouse year, I had no hesitations. Fortunately, I was accepted into the program, and I could not wait for summer to come. I was finally getting the opportunity to become the person that I had idolized for so long.

From the moment I received my star bracelet, I was ready for anything that could come my way. My days became jam-packed with teaching activities, meeting with Activity Directors, going to free swims with campers, and spending time with my friends. I loved every minute. I learned how to manage my time efficiently and embrace last-minute changes. The indoor activities for swim fit and trapshooting were some of my favorites to lead. I learned how to help campers of all ages. Although my cabin stays (Happy Hollow, Wrens, and Squirrels) were only a few years apart, they required very different leadership styles. I learned how to make any moment fun and memorable for others and myself. Even when my day was hectic, I was having the best time of my life.

Camp will always be an indescribable experience for me. I could spend hours trying to explain the adrenaline of Color Wars or the symbolism of my wish bracelets or the emotion of receiving my LT2 Paddle, but it will never be the same as living it. I am so thankful for the eight summers I was able to spend at Camp Lake Hubert. It gave me a caring environment to become confident with myself. It gave me the best, most supportive friends a girl could ever ask for. It gave me memories that I will hold onto for the rest of my life. I still cannot comprehend that I will not be returning next summer for my gap year, but I know that no matter where I go, the lessons of camp will always be with me.

Age 15

The 109th Season of Camp Lincoln marked my seventh summer spent on the sunny shores of Lake Hubert. Every year, I come back with a more energetic love for camp because it provides me and my fellow campers with an opportunity to be the best that we can be. Through friendships, fun, opportunities, community, and challenges it helps to shape all who have camped there into the people they are today.

At camp, we have an Achievement Club with four different levels, each of which requires a certain amount of dedication, excellence in activities, sportsmanship, and character. I started going for the Camp Lincoln Achievement Club in the Summer of 2015. The Achievement Club gives me an opportunity to make the best out of every summer because of the challenges they offer. This summer, I achieved both my Stag and my Eagle Clubs, the two most difficult of the four. The other levels are Lincoln and Beaver.

At camp, we have something called the Bog. The Bog is a pit of mud found across from camp within a small swamp that most campers visit at least once during their summer. The Achievement Club and the Bog have a lot more in common than people think. Not everyone loves them at first, but those who try them with a positive mindset, end up having the time of their lives. The Bog is dirty and it gets in your hair, eyes and nose. However, once you climb out, you have grown as a person. You have also made new friends, tried something new, and had some fun along the way. My Eagle Club was the same way. I spent weeks teaching activities, learning knots and constellations, and trying to figure out how to fly a spinnaker. I did not always think that I would get it, but with the support of my fellow campers and counselors, I kept working and always tried my best, and my work paid off.

Camp Lincoln has and continues to be a truly special part of my life and has molded me into the young man that I am today. Throughout my many years at camp, I have become part of a community that is unparalleled in its values, creed, and attitude. I have come to know this unique community as family through the experiences and friendships that I have shared with almost all of its members. I know I will always be a part of this camp community long after I have left.

"There are so many benefits. Camp Lincoln has stretched our son in so many aspects. He has matured tremendously well at camp and has grown in confidence with skills and ability to be independent from his family."

If someone were to ask me to close my eyes and go to my “happy place”, the first thing that I would think of is Camp Lake Hubert. I picture myself standing on the dock and watching the sunset with my amazing camp friends. I imagine my friends laughing, singing camp songs, hearing the Fawns Cabin Screen Door slamming shut, and the sound of everyone running towards the dinner bell. Oh the memories!

I have spent the last three summers attending Camp Lake Hubert and I cannot wait to go back again. This year my parents finally let me stay for the 4-week session and it was the best time ever. By staying longer this year, I was finally able to participate in Color Wars. Go White Team! It was incredible being a part of the winning team this year. This past summer I was also able to participate in more activities than in previous years. I even learned how to sail for the first time in my life. Some of my favorite activities to do were trapshooting, wakeboarding, treehouse reading, high ropes, and completing the Hubert Marathon. And of course, lake time was always the highlight of my days. Paddleboarding, kayaking, canoeing etc...

Some of the most memorable days at camp are the “Special Days”. We dress up in different themes each week and do fun activities all day with our cabin mates. My favorite one this past summer was International Day. We dressed up like tourists, decorated globes, did different activities from around the world and had the best food ever. The cooks and counselors that were from different countries made dishes that were unique to where they came from. I am still craving the Mongolian Dumplings and Australian Fairy Bread!

I love everything about my Camp Lake Hubert Experience, but, most importantly, I love my camp friends. Each year I get to reunite with old friends and make new ones too. We all keep in touch through social media and we countdown the days until we are together at camp again. I miss our cabin time after our evening activity called Vespers. Vespers are very important to me and were a great way to bond with my cabin mates and make great memories. The dance parties were pretty great, too. I am part of a lifelong “club” and truly will always have a special place in my heart for everyone there. I can literally say that some of the best times of my life have been spent at Camp Lake Hubert.

Finally, one of the coolest things about camp is the counselors. They come from all over the United States and across the world. I really think because of them, I will someday travel and perhaps, even become a counselor at Camp Lake Hubert myself. The Director, Stacey Dyer, the nurses, cooks and other staff members are all awesome and make camp life so fun and memorable. Thanks Camp Lake Hubert, for the best summers ever!

CAMP IS GETTING AN UPGRADE

As we come up on our 110th Summer, Camp Lincoln and Camp Lake Hubert are setting into motion plans to better summer programming, while improving the camper experience. We pride ourselves on continuing our long-standing practice of offering a traditional sleepaway adventure for campers all over the world, which requires us to evolve and remain up to date with the best programming and facilities we can offer. Over the next year, Camp Lincoln will unveil an indoor recreation center and weight room, while Camp Lake Hubert introduces an updated kitchen and expansion to the Senior Dining Hall.

In the Fall of 2018, Camp Lincoln broke ground on a new recreation center. As Camp Lincoln's origins are very much based in the athletics, we look forward to having an indoor space to accommodate various sports (basketball, broomball, volleyball, indoor soccer, etc). "This new center will increase our ability to deliver skill development opportunities, regardless of the weather", says Executive Director Ruggs Cote. The New Camp Lincoln Recreation Center will also house an updated weight room and allow for larger group fitness classes. Combined with a nine-acre athletic field, these enhancements allow for even more sports to be practiced simultaneously than ever before. The Camp Lincoln Recreation Center is set to be complete in Spring of 2019.

Camp Lincoln has a history steeped in athletics – most notably with Bud Wilkinson, the Head Football Coach for the University of Oklahoma from 1947 to 1963, and Minnesota native. Bud brought his football team and high school hopefuls to Camp Lincoln to train for several years. They would use today's athletic field, which was originally built to accommodate these visiting teams.

Bud's team practiced under the cover of the tree-lined fields and away from the eyes of competitors. The Athletic Camp Cabins, now known as Senior I and II, were originally named Soonerville and Gopherville after the schools that great coaches, like Wilkinson, hailed from. With the new recreation center, located right next to the athletic field where Bud and his team would practice years ago, Camp Lincoln will continue to offer athletic opportunities in campers' off-season.

With 1,400 kids served every summer, it is imperative to run a tight operation in every way - programming, counseling, parent contact, operations, food service, etc.

Alongside the debut of the Camp Lincoln Recreation Center will come the enhancements to Camp Lake Hubert's Senior Dining Hall, which also broke ground in the Fall of 2018. The current Senior Dining Hall will be getting a brand-new kitchen with updates to accommodate campers and their dietary needs. In addition, the actual dining hall will be expanded to add an additional dining room.

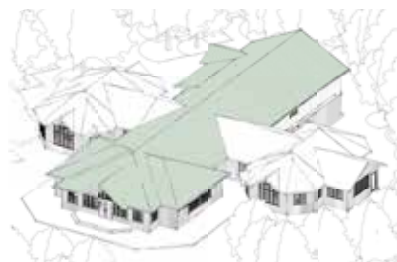

As of now, the Senior Dining Hall, which overlooks the waterfront and 100-year time capsule, houses two dining rooms for "Senior Campers," typically those over 12 years old staying for four weeks. The walls are lined with old yearbook photos dating as far back as the opening year in 1927. Cote explains, "It is beneficial not only to the possible expansion of our meal offerings, but also to the camp community. This new space will bring all campers together under the same roof and supply us with more programming opportunities." The Senior Dining Hall is expected to be complete in time for the campers of Summer 2019.

"Camp Lake Hubert is a wonderful place for our daughter to branch out and learn new things.

The biggest benefit is NO electronic devices. It is a wonderful three weeks where girls can just talk with one another face to face, participate in activities and explore new things. It is a great time to decompress from the digital world."

10 REASONS TO COME TO THE 110TH ANNIVERSARY WEEKEND

1. CAMP FRIENDS

We are sure you have camp friends all over the world. It can be more than difficult trying to get everyone to come together at the same time. The 110th is the perfect excuse for you and all your camp friends to drop everything and come together.

2. NOSTALGIA

There is nothing that can replace the feeling, smells, and sounds of camp. Coming back to a favorite place can bring memories flooding back. Let those memories in and feed the camper spirit that has stayed with you since your last time at camp.

3. ACTIVITIES

Remember all those awards you went for or the crafts you used to make. Well, you can try them all over again. We will be running our most popular activities during the weekend. So you can relive that bullseye or make the perfect tie-dye swirl.

4. S'MORES AND CAMPFIRES

Nothing beats the smell of the campfire and the mess of a s'more. Get your fill of both during the weekend's celebrations.

5. NETWORKING

This might not have been the first thing to come to mind, but it is true! People from all over the world with different backgrounds and interests have walked through our gates for 110 years. You may find yourself reconnecting with old friends or meeting new ones who, we are sure, will always stick out a leg to help a fellow camp alumni.

6. SEE THE STARS AT NIGHT

You will not believe how you could spend another night without this view. We cannot promise Northern Lights, but we can promise an amazing view of those twinkling stars. Will your viewpoint be the Observation Deck or the Athletic Field?

7. CAMP SONGS

Everyone has their favorite camp song. We know you will probably agree that hearing that song or singing it on campgrounds makes it exponentially better. Sing your favorite camp song right where you first learned it.

8. SEE RUGGS COTE RUN THE WEENIE BACKWARDS

It might happen....It might not....but you have to be there to find out.

9. CAMP VINEYARD VINES SWEATSHIRT

"My daughter came home from camp with a great attitude about helping out at home. I sense she has a renewed sense of gratitude for all of the good things in her life - her family, her home, her health and the opportunity to experience things like sleep away camp."

Kim L., 2018 Parent

"Camp Lake Hubert is a wonderful place for our daughter to branch out and learn new things. The biggest benefit is NO electronic devices. It is a wonderful three weeks where girls can just talk with one another face to face, participate in activities and explore new things. It is a great time to decompress from the digital world."

Susan M., 2018 Parent

2018 CAMP LAKE HUBERT VISITORS

THANK YOU

This past summer we were privileged to host 30 scholarship recipients, thanks to the referral and generosity of many alumni and camp friends. Our Scholarship Fund continues to support a growing number of campers from all walks of life. Boys and girls continue to benefit from a community that encourages self-reliance and develop important life and activity skills. Thank you for your support, as it is a blessing and an important service to help make camp happen for these campers.

2018 "Camperships" were awarded to 17 boys and 13 girls, hailing from Colorado, Illinois, Kansas, Louisiana, Minnesota, Missouri, New York, Oklahoma, and Tennessee. While the majority participated in our traditional four week experience, some also joined one of our two week or coed sessions. The positive and grateful responses continue to be amazing, so thank you!

Donations to the Scholarship Fund are tax-deductible through the American Camp Association (ACA), and the camps match all donations, thus expanding the opportunity for more children to experience camp. One of ACA's mottos states that "camp gives kids a world of good" and, as alumni, we know first-hand how impactful a good camp experience can be. Please consider making a tax-deductible donation this year. You can do so via our website: www.lincoln-lakehubert.com/alumni/camp-scholarship.

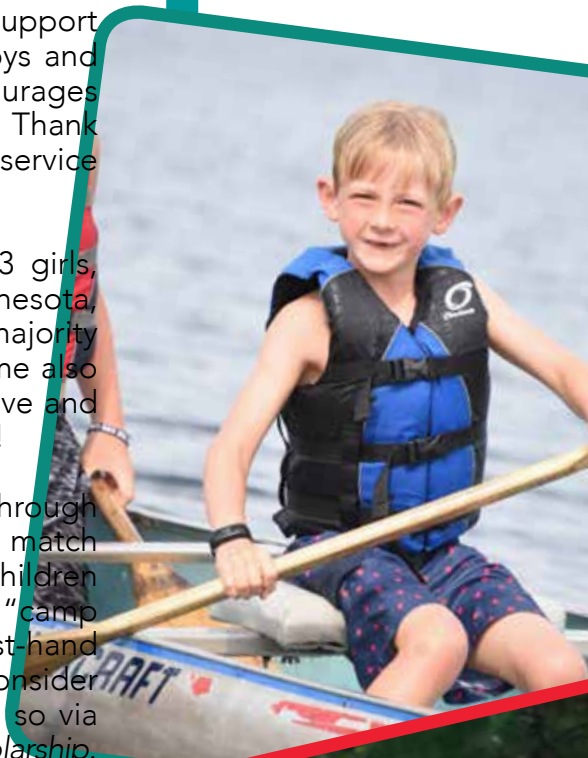

As well, if you would like to refer or support a specific, deserving child from your community, this is also possible. A number of alumni are already doing this. Please let us know if you might be interested and we would be happy to discuss how to make this happen.

In addition to scholarship donations, each year a number of former staff, campers and/or parents help us with a generous donation of their time. They may volunteer to help with staff training or certain projects that help get camp ready for each season.

Thank you for your support of camp and our Scholarship Fund!

Sincerely,

Sam Cote and Bill Jones
