Lawn Olympics

Ready to have your team get down-and-dirty with some fun competition? Our Lawn Olympics is the perfect way to find out who on your team has the stuff to make it to the medal stand! Now don’t let the ‘Olympic’ reference in the event name fool you – no decathlons will be run, nor hurdles jumped, nor javelins thrown. In our Olympics, teams compete in light-hearted events that anyone can do, some a little more hardcore than others but nothing ‘cardiac-inducing’! During the event, teams will face off in a series of both group games and one-on-one team rotations. Because of the different personalities inherent in any large group, we mix in both mental and physical activities, so that no matter their strengths, each team member will have the opportunity to shine. After a few group games to warm everybody up and get them in the competitive spirit, teams will be broken into rotations where they will face off against a new team at every station. Rotations can include Slingshot Archery (using Rubber Chickens of course!), Fowling (footballs and bowling pins!), PED Pong (beer pong on steroids), Bocce Ball, Tinker Toy Tower of Power, Beach Volleyball, Olympic-size Scrabble, Cornhole, and more!
